Retirement Villages Have Open Day Success

Three Brisbane retirement villages, brought to you by FKP, are celebrating successful open days from last weekend.

The three bayside villages Aveo Cleveland, Aveo Manly Gardens and Aveo Cleveland Gardens had over 90 groups of interested buyers through their doors.

FKP, which is the group behind Aveo Live Well, owns, operates or manages 80 retirement villages across Australia.

Executive General Manager Retirement Justin Laboo said he was impressed by how residents at the village embraced the open days and went to great lengths to help out.

“This is a celebration of their homes and we are just as proud of these villages as they are,” Mr Laboo said.

“Residents helped serve morning tea, as well as relaxed with and spoke to the guests who were interested in finding out more about the retirement village lifestyle offered by Aveo and FKP.”

A special shuttle service bus was used to transport the groups to each of the three villages.

“FKP is a specialist in the retirement village sector and through our brand Aveo Live Well we offer great places for people to retire.

“The participation of our residents in the tours is testament to the quality of our villages and the great people who chose to live in them.”
