QLD VILLAGE MANAGER OF THE YEAR CROWNED

The manager of the Brisbane retirement village Aveo Greenleaves, brought to you by FKP, has been crowned the Retirement Village Association's (RVA) Queensland Retirement Village Manager of the Year.

Debbie Searle was awarded the honour during a reception at the Hyatt at Sanctuary Cove on Friday evening (July 9).

She became Village Manager at Aveo Greenleaves at Upper Mount Gravatt in January last year. Debbie said she was excited when she discovered she'd been shortlisted for the honour.

"I was pleased just to have been shortlisted as Retirement Village Manager of the Year, let alone winning. It is a great boost for our village," she said.

"Aveo Greenleaves is a wonderful place and is in a great location with lots of greenery, and the people here are very special."

"I enjoy the job because I'm able to help people. I provide a service to make life easier for those at the village through problem solving."

Since arriving at the village Debbie has, among other things, established a men's group and, for all residents, a Spring Fair. It is this dedication which led to her efforts being recognised by the RVA.

Aveo Greenleaves has a range of onsite facilities including a pool, bowls rink, library and games room.
